BEQUESTS AND DONATIONS TO THE UNIVERSITY

The University welcomes assistance in the development of its educational responsibilities and in its involvement in community life. Bequests and donations are gratefully received and acknowledged according to the wishes of the benefactor.

The bequest or donation may be in the form of money, real estate, stock, shares or goods.

When writing a will, the University recommends that benefactors seek professional advice from a solicitor or trustee company. A bequest to the University may be made by intending benefactors as set out below:

I give to the University of Technology, Sydney, (my estate) or (portion/the residue of my estate) or (the sum of $......) free of all duties thereon and direct that it be applied for the purposes of the University in such manner as the Council of the University may determine.

Intending benefactors should clearly indicate any special conditions or requests. However, to avoid hampering the ‘real intent’ of any such gift, it is desirable that any special conditions or requests be expressed in general terms.

Where the bequest is in the form of shares or inscribed stock, appropriate provisions should be made to ensure future University access to the securities.

Taxation

The University of Technology, Sydney is a registered organisation under section 78 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936. Donations of $2 or more by private individuals or organisations are allowable deductions for income tax purposes.

Estate duty

PRIZES, AWARDS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

UTS policy on the award of prizes

Prizes and scholarships are awarded each year to students in the University for meritorious work. These are made available through the generosity of private individuals and public organisations. They are offered each semester, annually or biennially. In rare instances, a prize or scholarship will be offered only when funds permit. Most prizes and scholarships are offered subject to the provision that they will be awarded only when a student has attained a mark or level of achievement considered by the faculty board concerned to be sufficiently high. In addition to these official University prizes and scholarships, it should be noted that a number of scholarships and prizes are available from external sources.

The University’s policy and procedures for the administration of prizes are published online at:

The University’s guidelines for the acceptance of new prizes are published online at:

Prizes, awards and scholarships are awarded each year to students in the Faculty for meritorious work. These are made available through the generosity of private individuals and public organisations. They are offered each semester, annually or biennially. In rare instances, a prize or scholarship is offered only when funds permit.
